

Lisa Butz, owner of A Subtle Rebellion Gallery and Salon is hosting a “A Day In My Shoes” project to benefit SARC. This national photographic project was created by Amy Martin-Friedman to support shelters for victims of domestic violence in different cities. It first debuted in San Francisco in 2009 and is now coming to the East Coast! The exhibit features women wearing footwear personally meaningful to them (new or not new). Amy is coming to Harford County next month, October 13-16, to hold photo sessions. Then the photos will be on display during February 2012 with a red carpet art gallery opening in Abingdon on Valentines Day that includes food, cocktails, silent auction and other art work for sale...all to benefit SARC.

If you would like to participate in the project and support SARC, please contact Lisa directly at lisajonesbutz@asubtlerebellion.com. I recommend you take a look at Amy’s work on this project...and get ideas on how other women have participated (some women are doing the picture with their daughter). All you need is the contribution (you can pay it or raise it) and your favorite kicks! Below are contribution levels (they are really in need of $650 or $325 level contributors). http://www.martinfriedmanphotography.com/A_day_in_my_shoes.html

Please help SARC raise funds by considering participating yourself and by sharing this info with other women you think would be interested.
